Why private equity and impact investing are a natural fit

SECA Evening Event

Thursday, 11 May 2023,

17:30 – 19:30

Zunftthaus zur Safran, Zurich

An aerial view of Zurich, Switzerland, with a vibrant blue and green color palette. The city is overlaid with numerous white, semi-transparent icons representing various impact investing themes: a globe, a pie chart, a leaf, a gear, a wind turbine, a solar panel, a person, a location pin, a recycling symbol, and a leaf with a drop. The icons are interconnected by thin white lines, creating a network-like structure. The background shows a mix of urban buildings and green spaces.

Why private equity and impact investing are a natural fit

Impact Investing has gained strong momentum. An increasing number of investors is allocating money, and the number of impact offerings has been growing significantly.

Private Equity is the most prominent asset class in Impact Investing, and is a “natural fit” to impactful investments that can deliver attractive financial returns alongside impact. This SECA Event will zoom in on today’s opportunities, chances, risks, and pitfalls in Impact Investing and highlight various perspectives.
