A View on Italy's Investment Opportunities

The event will provide an in-depth look at Italy's current economic landscape, investment potential, and the role of strategic capital in supporting sustainable growth. Through a series of focused sessions, participants will gain insight into Italy's competitive advantages, key investment sectors, and the strategic role played by major institutional investors in unlocking long-term value.

Key Topics

- Why invest in Italy? Economic outlook and challenges of Sustainable Growth
This session will offer an overview of Italy's economic system, highlighting its key competitive levers and the most promising sectors for investment, in light of the country's macroeconomic context.
- Public debt, private wealth:
how to unlock value for Italy's sustainable development
Experts from CDP Equity and the CFO office will discuss CDP's role and positioning as a prominent investor in the eyes of international stakeholders. The session will explore the strategic rationale behind CDP's investments in major national initiatives, supported by case studies, and touch on its relationships with international investors and rating agencies.
- Focus on alternatives: undervalued opportunities and emerging trends in Italy
Investment managers from selected asset management firms (SGRs) of CDP Group will share the strategic thinking behind their investment choices. The session will also feature case studies showcasing how these investments have generated value for CDP, the broader economy, and the companies involved.
